TeleECHO™ Clinic

Project ECHO® at the University of New Mexico Health Sciences Center

- ◆ Through the use of technology, best practice protocols and case-based learning, clinicians in rural and low resource settings can deliver healthcare that is as safe and effective as that given in a university setting.
- ◆ Provide evidence-based educational resources through didactic presentations and case-based learning.
- ◆ Collaborative feedback and recommendations for cases presented.
- ◆ Access to additional clinical provider support.
- ◆ No Cost CME/CPE Credits Available.
